DEFINITIONS

Emergency Manager: Government official responsible for developing and implementing an emergency response plan.

Emergency Operations Center: A central location staffed by representatives of various agencies including fire, rescue, public works and others that, in the event of an emergency, work together to coordinate the government response.

Hazard Mitigation: Action taken to reduce or eliminate risks to human life or property from natural and human-caused disasters.

Response: Immediate actions taken to save lives, public property and the environment, and meet basic human needs.

Recovery: Once conditions have stabilized, the actions taken to provide long-term aid to affected persons, clear debris, begin repair and rebuilding.

Damage Assessment Teams: Groups of individuals who go into the field to survey conditions to determine the scope and nature of the impact on the natural and built environment.

---

- The preservation community is in regular contact with the Emergency Operations Manager and a preservation representative is assigned to the Emergency Operations Center.

- Preservationists are recruited and trained to participate in risk assessment, mitigation, response and recovery, and to serve on damage assessment teams.

- Local officials have been given a comprehensive survey of their community’s historic resources.

- Building condition assessment forms consider the historic integrity of buildings districts.

- Historic District Commissions and other regulatory review bodies have developed post-disaster procedures for design review and permitting in historic districts.

- Sites selected for response personnel staging areas, temporary housing, and debris removal and storage do not impact historic or archeological sites.

- Salvage protocols for the debris removal process address the need to preserve historic features and materials.

- Demolition permit criteria and procedures include evaluation by historic preservation experts.

- A preservation professional is trained and available to participate in deliberations regarding post-disaster recovery activities and priorities.

---

This material from Heritage Preservation was developed with a grant from the Department of the Interior, National Park Service. Any opinions, findings, and conclusions or recommendations expressed in this material are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Department of the Interior.